

PERMITTED SUBSTANCES

The following is a list of Permitted Substances as referred to in the definition of Permitted Substances in the Rules of Racing.

Rule 804(5) prohibits anyone, other than a Veterinarian who is an official, from administering, or causing to be administered, in any manner whatsoever, any substance other than a Permitted Substance to a horse entered in a Race, Trial or a Jump out, at any time during:

- (a) the one Clear Day immediately prior to the day of the Race, Trial or jump out; or
- (b) the day of that Race, trial or jump out (which, for the avoidance of doubt, commences at 12:01 am on the day the Race, trial or jump out takes place) and prior to the start of such Race, trial or jump out, unless the substance was administered with the written consent of a Stipendiary Steward or Investigator and the Stipendiary Steward or Investigator was satisfied on reasonable grounds that the substance was being administered, and was necessary, solely for horse welfare reasons.

The following are Permitted Substances:

1. Hoof oil.
2. Baby oil.
3. Petroleum jelly.
4. Shampoo.
5. Fly spray.

provided that they are commercially available, and do not contain any Prohibited Substance, medications or herbs which may have, or claim to have, a therapeutic effect.

6. Clay poultice.

provided that the poultice does not contain any Prohibited Substance, medications or herbs which may, or claim to have, have a therapeutic effect, and is removed before the horse enters the Racecourse or Training Facility for a Race, Trial or Jump out.
